

SPECIAL LECTURE

Professor RANDY WEINBERG

Director of the Information
Systems Program
Carnegie Mellon University,
Pittsburgh

From the Pyramids to Airbus: Global Project Management over the centuries

People have been building 'big things' for thousands of years. Some of them have been very successful and some of them have been expensive misadventures. In this talk I will introduce some of the basic principles and challenges of large scale project management and describe two well known projects - one from antiquity and one from today's headlines.

Wednesday, 7th November 2007

12pm

C008

LAS Building

Food will be provided